

Official
Proclamation

Town of Malabar,
Florida

Whereas, on the Martin Luther King Jr., Federal Holiday, Americans honor the memory of a man who stirred the conscience of our nation, and recommit ourselves to the dream to which Dr. King devoted his life; and

Whereas, the dream inspired our citizens to live up to the principles of our founding fathers and spread a message of hope, justice and brotherhood that took hold in the hearts across our great land and continues to speak to millions around the world; and

Whereas, our nation will continue to build on the legal equality championed by Dr. King and will continue to work to protect the promise of our Declaration and guarantee the rights of every citizen; and

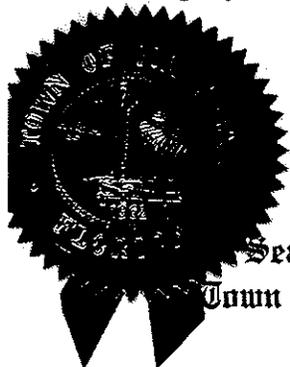

Whereas, we will continue with confidence as a Nation united, committed to destroying discrimination and dedicated to extending the full blessings of liberty and opportunity to all Americans; and

Whereas, the Town of Malabar is committed to supporting this recognition.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Town Council of the Town of Malabar, Florida does hereby support the President's proclamation that Monday, January 21, 2008 be recognized as the

Martin Luther King, Jr., Federal Holiday

In the Town of Malabar, and calls upon all citizens to observe this special day with appropriate civic, community and service programs and activities in honor of Dr. King's life and legacy.
